

ABET PROGRAM EVALUATORS: THE FACE OF QUALITY IN TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Are you a good communicator? A true team player? A respected member of your profession?

Then you may qualify to serve your society as an ABET program evaluator. Program evaluators are dedicated technical professionals — deans, department heads, faculty, industry leaders, government representatives, and private practitioners — with a demonstrated interest in contributing to their professions and improving higher education.

As a program evaluator, you can help ensure that today's technical graduates are prepared to be tomorrow's technical workforce.

Visit www.abet.org/volunteer.shtml for the program evaluator's job description, minimum qualifications, desired competencies, instructions for applying, and more.

Leadership and Quality Assurance in Applied Science, Computing, Engineering, and Technology Education