Guidance on Materials

From the 2021-2022 APPM:

I.E.5.b.(2) Materials – Evaluators will review materials that are sufficient to demonstrate that the program is in compliance with the applicable criteria and policies. Much of this information should be incorporated into the Self-Study Report (see I.D.1.f); additional evidence of program compliance may be made available to evaluators prior to and during the visit, using an on-line storage location. The program should make the following on-site materials available to the team during the visit, without duplicating materials provided in the Self-Study Report.

- Materials addressing issues arising from the team’s review of the Self-Study Report or on-line instructional materials
- Documentation of actions taken by the program after submission of Self-Study Report as being available for review during the visit
- Materials necessary for the program to demonstrate compliance with the criteria and policies
- Representative examples of graded student work including, when applicable, major design or capstone projects

Definition from the ABET Glossary

Materials necessary for the program to demonstrate compliance with the criteria and policies. These could include but are not limited to representative examples of graded student work including, when applicable, major design or capstone projects.

Guidance: What a team might request from a program/What a program should prepare for review

Notes:

- ABET does not prescribe nor provide recommendations for the platform that a program should use to create its electronic materials repository. Whatever platform is used should provide for team access using commonly available information technology.
- Programs are advised to contact the team chair early to share the access process and organization of the electronic repository. It is generally recommended that materials be organized in a manner that facilitates demonstrating to the PEV compliance with the requirements of each criteria. Regular communication and coordination with the team chair will ease the access and review process for all involved.
